Professional Notes: Job titles at AIA follow an internal seniority convention. My role is officially titled "Manager" in HR records, but functionally equivalent to a Senior Manager given team size and scope; some public profiles may list it simply as "Manager". This is a wording difference, not a discrepancy. At HSBC, my final project extended into early 2020, so some records may show the role ending in 2019 while others show 2020. Both refer to the same position.
